

The PPF Senior Managers and Certification Regime

July 2023

Version 16

Foreword

The Pension Protection Fund is a public corporation, set up by the Pensions Act 2004, and run by an independent board. We report to Parliament through the Secretary of State for Work and Pensions. We protect millions of people throughout the United Kingdom who belong to defined benefit pension schemes and more than 300,000 people are members of the PPF. Without us, these people could face significant financial uncertainty and hardship.

We are also responsible for the Financial Assistance Scheme (FAS) and are responsible for the day-to-day running of the FAS on behalf of the Government. We also manage the Fraud Compensation Fund, which pays compensation to members of all types of work-based pension schemes whose employers become insolvent and whose schemes have lost out financially due to offences involving dishonesty.

In 2016, an individual accountability regime for banks was introduced by the PRA and FCA – the Senior Manager and Certification Regime (SMCR). It was later adopted for insurers in 2018 and was extended to all other regulated firms in 2019. Key aspects of SMCR relate to structural and organisational clarity, the identification of senior managers and clear descriptions of what they are responsible for. The Pension Protection Fund is not obliged to implement SMCR. However, we place individual accountability high up on our cultural agenda as one of our core values.

Therefore, in line with our strategic aim to emulate best practice within financial services and manage conduct risk, the PPF Board has implemented all aspects of the FCA accountability regime that are relevant to the PPF since 2019. We firmly believe that SMCR continues to help us develop our commitment to best practice in our organisational arrangements, governance, and senior accountability.

SMCR, and our adoption of it, aims to clarify and enhance personal accountability and responsibility and supports the importance of a clear and effective governance structure. We expect all staff to perform their activities in line with the agreed standards and conduct themselves according to our ICARE values which set the foundation for how our people should behave.

We are committed to catalysing a more sustainable pensions industry with responsible investment at the heart of how we manage our portfolio. Minimising our own environmental impact has been a priority, as has embedding diversity and inclusion throughout our business and supporting the communities in which we live and work through volunteering and outreach. These activities are core elements of our daily work and expectations of each other.

While we have sought to implement all relevant and appropriate aspects of the SMCR to the PPF, our approach is not intended to directly replicate the FCA or PRA rules. In this publication, we describe our approach to implementing SMCR, and linking it to our activities including the allocation of responsibilities for Senior Manager Functions (SMFs). We look forward to continuing to operate the regime for the activities we do, which those we are here to protect and our stakeholders rely on.

Kate Jones,
Chair of the Board

Overview

Overview

The SMCR applies in three parts: Senior Managers, Certification and Conduct Rules:

- Senior Managers, within the SMCR means, in the main, the most senior people within an organisation who are allocated specific responsibilities.
- Certification applies to employees whose role means it's possible for them to cause significant harm to the organisation they work for, the market or to customers.
- The Conduct Rules set the minimum standards of behaviour we expect staff to demonstrate.

One of the aims of the PPF Regime is to produce Statements of Responsibilities (SoRs) which clearly set out the responsibilities that a senior manager holds. This includes how these responsibilities fit with the organisation's overall governance and management arrangements. We have discussed and agreed SoRs based on a list of Senior Manager Functions (SMFs) that we feel are relevant to our organisation.

These have been aligned to our current directorate structure to ensure these fit to our activities. The SoRs have also been drafted taking into account guidance on SoRs from the Financial Conduct Authority, which highlighted good and poor practice examples.

While there is not a precise mapping of responsibilities to those that are set out in SMCR, we have grouped responsibilities for Senior Managers using a similar approach as for regulated financial services firms. Each Statement of Responsibility includes details of any relevant:

- Prescribed Responsibilities. These responsibilities are similar to those set out in SMCR and reflect the key areas of risk which tend to be common to all financial services firms.
- Overall Responsibilities. These are just as important as Prescribed Responsibilities and describe the other activities, business areas and functions of the firm, so that there are no gaps.
- Other Responsibilities. These are other details of responsibilities, for example including any specific responsibilities that are not described in Prescribed or Overall Responsibilities.

In addition, details of our committees are included on our website which include current members, the terms of references of Board committees and details of matters which the Board is responsible for.

Within the regulated environment, roles that can create 'significant harm' are captured under the certification element of the regime and individuals are referred to as 'certified persons'.

These are people who perform certain specified functions which are capable of harming the firm, the market or customers, but who are not senior managers. We have applied this part of the regime to roles in the Investment team that meet the criteria of being "significant harm" roles.

In the regulated environment, firms have to assess whether certified persons are "fit and proper" to perform their role. We do this using our Performance Development Processes (PDP) and with reference checking to confirm Senior Managers and Certified Persons as 'fit and proper' persons to hold their position. We also complete regular background and financial soundness checks for these individuals.

We continue to underpin our approach with training and awareness sessions, not just for Senior Managers covered under the PPF Regime but for all employees. All teams within the PPF have received team specific training on the FCA conduct rules and how they related to our ICARE values. The Compliance and Ethics team undertake regular reviews of our framework including discussions with Senior Managers regarding their responsibilities, which also includes looking at our governance and documentation that describe our obligations, principally from the Pensions Act 2004, and how this aligns with the aims of the PPF Regime. Finally, we monitor developments and regulatory guidance from across the financial services industry to learn from and improve our framework where appropriate.

Senior Manager Roles

As part of our work to implement appropriate aspects to the PPF, we have sought to reference the SMCR. However, our approach is not intended to directly replicate the FCA or PRA rules. These roles have been aligned to our current directorate structure to ensure these fit to our current activities.
