

“The PPF continues to be in good financial shape, well positioned for the future. We expect challenging times ahead but we are confident our strategy is on course to see us through them.”

What our members say

David Horney

“I learnt about the PPF at a terrible time for me – with a young family to support and no notice, I found myself without a job and facing the loss of a pension too. I love the website – the planner brings my pension to life – and even though I am still working, I can easily see my options and it always cheers me up.”

Robert Low

“The PPF is a wonderful organisation, and an untold story. It is very efficient and well-managed. When it took over my pension ten years ago it provided support and reassurance when I thought all was lost and things have gone smoothly ever since. The website is excellent – simple, clear and easy to use. It gives me everything I need.”

A great place to work

Lisa McCrory

“I’ve had two children since joining the PPF. One of the things I value most about working here is retaining a healthy work-life balance. I work part-time and my working pattern means I can pick my children up every day. Many PPF people have non-traditional working patterns, which I’ve found means colleagues are very accommodating when I need to change things around to meet family commitments.”
